Are these aerial flights to carry the war to high heaven?

The summer vacation is an obse-lete institution in Europe.

This year the world is finding ac-much excitement a great bore.

Paradise is located wherever the fish bite good and there ain't no war news

Next door neighbors are usually identified as the families having those bad boys.

This year is also notable for the voracity and numbers of its mosquitoes.

If only all bathing girls were as alluring as the lass on the magazine cover!

The czar has called for new men, but he isn't anywhere near his last moujik yet.

To avoid a bitter argument, don't agree with the fellow who calls himself a fool.

War has brought down the cost of radium. This will cause a gasp of popular relief.

Warnings to submarines are among the most important of the summer
"don'ts" this year.

Sharks and whales are now being mistaken for submarines. It makes great fish stories.

Anybody who understands human nature can make predictions that are bound to come true.

Making cotton contraband of war raises it to the dignity formerly held by the Missouri mule.

Man has been known to reform just to disappoint the neighbors, who said he was going to the devil.

Children, like parrots, repeat what they hear—and often to the embarrassment of their possessors.

Still, it's pretty hard to see how a stitch in time could possibly save nine in a modern bathing suit.

All is not war and turmoil. For instance, there is sustained interest in the peaceful pursuit of checkers.

When a woman says, "The more I know men the better I like dogs," the man she wanted got away from her.

Getting a sure enough heiress married off is almost as fussy a proceeding as changing the map of Europe.

If there are just as good fish in the sea as ever were caught, a pretty widow knows how to land one of them.

The easiest things to mention and the most difficult things to forget are those fool remarks about the weather.

There is one comfort. When the history of the times comes to be written the censors will have lost their jobs.

We always have something to look forward to with pleasure. In a few weeks it will be time to buy coal for winter.

There is a difference between coming to this country to become an adopted son and coming to adopt the country.

The absence of American tourists would be sufficient to account for the lack of gaiety in the European capitals.

One advantage of being poor is that one can get married without attracting the attention of that inveterate gossip, the world.

It makes a fellow feel pretty good when he recalls that he never heard his father or mother denounce marriage as a failure.

Candy has been added to the diet of the federal prisoners at Atlanta.
But the government is not handing out any taffy to them.

Considering the persistence with which the Italians "advance along the Isosno," that river must be longer than the Mississippi.

The only kind of food that doesn't shoot up in price seems to be food for thought. Perhaps that is because there is an overproduction.

Glen R. Bush, the Union Pacific watchman who shot and killed Enrique Cordova, will remain in jail at Rawlins, Wyo., until his trial because of his inability to provide $10,000 bail.
He is charged with murder in the second degree. Bush claims he shot the Mexican in self-defense. No gun was found on Cordova's body.

purchased the wool clip of the Selway Sheep company of Dillon, Mont.
last week for a trifle more than 31 cents a pound, he not only opened the season by making the first purchase, but paid the highest price ever received in southern Montana, if not in the entire state.

Bobby's "first" teeth were bad and had to be extracted. He seemed so fearful of the ordeal that his mother asked him if he did not want to take gas for it. His eyes opened wide and he exclaimed in horror: "Take gas! I should say not! Do you think I want to be blown up?"
